Not Wasting One Drop with #Milk-Saver by @BellyToBreast Fairhaven Health #review and #Giveaway

I never knew the true value of Breast Milk until I became a breastfeeding mama. I would look at people doing it and wonder why the hell they would be so upset about leakage or a bottle of spilled milk they had just pumped. I mean couldn't the just make more isn't that what our body was suppose to do?

I still remember sitting there feeding Steven and all of a sudden my husbands eyes got really wide. I asked what his issue was, like come on I was just feeding his son what was the big deal? "Look at your shirt and lap" he told me. So I did and then I gasped I was soaked I mean you could ring it out my shirt and it was just pouring out. That's when I realized why women would get so upset over "wasted" milk. Breastfeeding is hard and you this stuff didn't come so easily in the excess amount wither. Yes I had more then enough to feed him from the breast but to get excess was another story.

I recently received a neat invention called the Milk-Saver! By Milkies. What you do is slip the Milk-Saver into your bra cup of the breast you are not using. As you are nursing there is no need to worry about wasting any of that "liquid gold" when you get your let down as the Milk-Saver catches any milk that happens to leak from the un-nursed breast. No more embarrassing leaks while you are out in public anymore with it's slim design nobody would know you were wearing it.

Durable case to keep it clean and safe

Wearing under a tank top.....very discreet and comfy!

Breastfeeding is super hard I know I have been doing it for 19 months. I believe this product would help anyone breastfeeding be successful with collecting and storing all the excess milk you produce. What a great way to start a freezer stash or build up your existing one.

I am sure you wonder how you can transport the Milk-Saver when you are out and about? Simple it comes with a sleek and durable case your Milk-Saver will stay clean and safe throughout your travels.

The Milk-Saver has been rigorously tested to ensure zero chemical leaching and contains no BPA or phthalates. Knowing that not only is this product helping me save the breast milk I work so hard to make it also is safe for the both of us.

I loved everything about this product. It allowed me to discreetly catch my "liquid-gold" with the confidence and ease while home or out and about in the community. I was not having to worry about breast-pads or if I had a change of clothes in case I leaked, instead I was able to take the extra milk I had caught and let Daddy give little man a bottle or save it in the freezer for a later date. No more throwing away our precious milk absorbed into a breast-pad, without the Milk-Saver I never would of known just how much I was tossing away each day.

Head on over to their website to read more details and purchase your own Milk-Saver.
